The great preponderance of sentiment is unmistakably opposed to a revival of this raile. Various other matters of present interest are also touched upon, notably the proposition to nominate the judicial efforer in the outset, before the adoption of the platform. This is generally received with favor.

The unit rule is a decoased canine. The revolt against it in the Los Angeles delegation, where an attempt was made to introduce this rejected political device, was so strong and decided that it field down hafore it got set up. The men of the delegation whom the "amart politition," to wit, Mr. Bors, attempted to bind hand and foot, "unbeknownst" to them, were fortunately alert enough and independ ent enough to throat saide the stackies intended for their political limbs, and keep themselves free that Germany and Austria, by mutual been foiled, and it is well. Fords, Howard & Huribert.

This is a pleasantly written volume, containing many vivid pen-pictures of seemes in Southern California. It is a book of nature, of which the author has evidently been a close and correct student. The main object of the work is to describe the natural out-of door attractions of Southern California. It is a unique work in this respect, and the pictures are such that the man of wealth and of ease reading its pages upon the other side of the continent would hardly rest content until he had familiarised himself with the land so strange and new—so wonderful in its clumate, wealth, and so varied in its productions. Of the productiveness of the soil the writer has the following truthful utterance: "Nearly all that has ever been written of the productiveness of California is literally true. The error lies in weaving a lot of exceptional truths into a fabric which is quite contain to be taken for general truth, it is also quite common to suppress many important qualifications, either because they are too numerous to state, or because they are too numerous to atate, or reader knows enough to make them for himself. And many such modifications are, in fact, so obvious to every adult person who has ever been outside of a city, that it is one's own fault if he is misled by the failure to mention them." The book is a pleasant and valuable addition to the literature of California. will contain seven rooms, cost $2000. J.

reports that work will be commenced in tearing down the old jail building, on North Spring street, within two months.
The Phillips's block, whoh will be erected on the site, will be a four-story brick building, 120 feet square, with stone and iron trimmings. There will be large stores on the first floor and offices on the second. The third and fourth stories will be fittel up in suites of rooms. The style of the building will be French Renaissance, and bay windows are to be a feature. There will be an elevator in the building, and the house will entirely be heated by steam. All the granite that is to be used on the block will come from Declez' quarries, near Consmongs. Mr. Phillips said yesterday to a Times reports grang from that an Opera House was to be built on his lot. The thought had never entered his head. The storing Mee's Republicane of the Foung Mee's Republicane of the Foung Mee's Republican Club of Los Angles: I am delighted to have the pleasure of meeting and addressing you upon this occasion. It fills my heart with joy to overflowing to see so many generous, enthusiastic and pattolic young men who have callated their fortunes under the banner of the Republican party.

It has been happily said that the principles of the Republican party are not for a day, but for all time. Its temples have been erected upon the broad and deep foundation of justice, eterual justice, the supreme sovereign of the world. Around its shrine the oppressed of every nation and of every race can seek protection. Our traditionary enemies, the Democratic party, when, as Republicans we refer to our observations to the struggle which secured the union of all these States.

Parties, like individuals, have character, and when you are oppressed to persecuted, traduced or maligned, you turn with pride and satisfaction to your neighbors and friends who are acquainted with you, and know the motive which governs your conduct.

When treason, dark and ignominious treason, was conspiring to overthrow this glorious Union even in the balls of our national legislature, when the enemies of the country were secretly meeting throughout the whole land and conspiring to overthrow the Union, that grand old Republican party, the party of Lincoln and Grant, and of Garfield, arose in the dignity of their strength and carried triumphantly the banner of the Union through that civil strife and established for us one of the greatest and most glorious countries that adorns the face of the earth.

When Republicans were standing sentine in the sloughs of the South in mudup to their waists, and along the storm beaten shores of the Atlantic, with their muskets upon their shoulders, in the face of the enemies of our country, and when in the States from whence they had come the Democratic party—or at least the Democratic party at that time,

In those days that tried men's souls, the brave and chivairous young men of our country seized their muskets and marched forth under the old flag to battle for the Union. Thousands died upon the battle-fields or perished in the prison-pens of the enemy, that we might enjoy the blessings of a free government. It is said that, of the vast number that perished in that terrible prison-pen, Andersonville, more than two-thirds were under the age of twenty-four years. Their memories have been emblazoned upon the pages.

The stock market to-day was dull and featureless. The political disturbance of Europe caused some seiling by foreign houses here, and in response to the higher raises for money prevailing in London there was an advance in surling exchange rates. There was very little feature throughout the day, fluctuations being confined within a narrow range and busines. being exceedingly dull. The street was flooded with rum are with regard to Nickle Plate, but the stock was very quiet. There was an advance in a few of the active stocks. First prices this morning were down 16% per cent. Prices declined from the opening fagures, but for only small fractions. There was somewhat better feeling in the afternoon, but without special movement until the last hour when pices were bid up by room traders, the market closing steady at quotations. The net result of the day's business is that everything on the active list is fractionally lower. The decline in Canada Southern, however, reached 1½ per cent. proval, the ordinance regulating the use of public streets, for the reason that its

There has been some talk to the effect that Gen. Dimond—ene of whose special elements of strength is supposed to be hi-Grand Army connections—was really not a very extensive veteran. The Army Register shows that March 3, 1865—a few months before the close of the war—Dimond was commissioned Captain and assistant-Adjactant General on Major-General Saxuon's staff, and served in that canacity to the end of the war.

General Saxton's staff, and served in that capacity to the end of the war.

That Swift is gaining ground is generally conceded. He made a very favorable impression on the delegates who came down on the train with him.

The platform to be adopted by the Convention is already engaging much attention among the leaders. Senator Stanford and Judge MoM. Shafter are now working on it in San Francisco, and drafting sketches of what they believe it should contain. McGlashan, of Truckee, proposes to insist upon the introduction of a boycott plank. The feeling is that he will be quelohed, as the leaders do not desire any measure so radical as this to be embraced.

The candidates for the Supreme Bench will not be interviewed on the water question. They vow that they have expressed no opinions upon it, have taken no sides, and cannot justly be classified. Judge McFarland, of Sacramento, and Judge Paterson, of San Josquin, both candidates for Supreme Judge, are here. In case any "complimentary nominations" are to be given in the Sixth District convention, it is proposed to likewise remember "Col." Jim Eastman and Captain Janes.

Four or five "sleepers" arrived from San Francisco yesterday, and eighteen or twenty are expected to-day.

Each candidate for governor has a candidate for chairman, but is understood to be afraid to spring him. Swift would like Blanchard, of El Dorado; Beed yearns for Jewett, of Yuba; Dimond has a hankering arter Gen. Barnes, of San Francisco. There is much talk of a chairman who is nobody's man, and I. B. Misraper of Saleno. The candidates for the Supreme Bench

HE WILSON'S PEAK GOLD DISCOVERIES. A NEW GAS PROPOSITION—CONGRESSMA

PASADENA, Aug. 21.—The article in als morning's Trace concerning the ate discoveries of gold-bearing ore on he summit of the Sierra Madre mounsins, near Wilson's Peak, is a correct tement of facts so far as they have en made manifest. There are some liners here who have no faith that the re will be found in paying quantities but these questions must be submitted to the test of experience. The showing is favorable, at any rate, for there is no doubt that very rich specimens have been found there. In addition to the claims mentioned in to-day's paper as having been taken up on the peak, it should be stated that three young printers in the Star office—W. F. Bird, W. A. Korstian and Frank Hearn, were among the first to stake out claims and to work them. They have made two locations, the "Extension" and the "Printer's Bonanza," and to-morrow they are going up again full of hope and loaded with supplies, determined to find out whether they are millionaires or only printers. to the test of experience. full of hope and loaded with supplies, determined to find out whether they are millionaires or only printers.

A second proposition to furnish Pasadena with gas works has been made by B. T. Polik, a member of the firm of M. G. Elmore & Co., of San Francisco, who are now putting in works at Santa Ana. They propose to erect a manufactory for supplying the city (including the Raymond) with gas from Australian coal, paying for the entire plant the meelves, and then taking one-third of the stock subscribed to purchase and operate the works, when completed and accepted by a competent board of directors. The estimated cost of the plant is about $50,000, and the gas could be furnished at as low a rate, at least, as that paid at Los Angeles. Mr. Raymond has been notified by telegraph of the proposition, and it is hoped that something may come of it. Pasadena must have gas aconer or later, and the sooner the better.

A Point for Hazard. From the San Francisco Post's Legislative Report, Aug. 19.1

The Assembly did a good afternoon's work by passing the Yule amendment, amended as follows:
Resolved by the Assembly, the Senate concurring (two thirds of all the members elected in each house voting in the affirmative), That the following amendment to Article XIV. of the Constitution of the State of California be and the same is hereby proposed to the qualified electors of oposed to the qualified electors of the State for approval and ratifica-

That Article XIV. of the Constitu-tion of the State of California be amended by adding the following new section to the end thereof: Section 3. The waters of all nat-ural streams within the State are the ural streams within the State are the property of the public, and are dedicated to the use of the people of the State. Such waters may be diverted and used for irrigation, mining, milling or other beneficial purposes, under regulations prescribed by law; provided, that navigation in navigable streams, subject to the control of the United States, shall not be impaired. The English common-law of riparian rights, so far as the same may be in conflict with this section, shall not be recognized as a rule of decision in any of the courts of this cision in any of the courts of this State.

The noes were Firebaugh, Hollister, Jones, McJunkin and Woodward.

During the debate and amendments, Hazard, of Los Angeles, came in for a nice vindication. Last week, in the hurry of debate, he accepted an amendment, and was told that he had put his foot in it; but the House having practically adopted his views, he comes out rather on the top of the heap.

The debate on the bill was interesting. "Milling," was inserted to please the miners, who, under Walrath, have fought until they have got their own way, and then Corcoran moved to strike out the reference to navigation in navigable streams. He argued that all streams south of Stockton are feeders to navigable streams, and to take water from them impairs the navigation.

San Francisco Examiner.1

It has leaked out that during the It has leaked out that during the recent Grand Encampment of this city Dr. J. C. Tucker of Oakland was expelled from the Grand Army of the Bepublic, on the ground that he was never a soldier. Dr. Tucker was a member of Hooker Post in Alameda, of high standing and great popularity. His genial manners were so engaging that he was elected Surgeon-General of the Department of California. At the Grand Encampment in Postland, Me., last year he was elected Surgeon-General of the Grand Army. This started somebody to searching the military record, when it was discovered that Dr. Tucker had none. Becoming aware of this discovery, Dr. Tucker, a few weeks before the recent grand Encampment sent in his resignation as Surgeon-General and also as a member of the G. A. R. It was decided that as he had never been entitled to membership in the Grand Army his resignation could not be accepted. He was accordingly expelled. So far as could be learned, there were no charges against the physician other than that he was a bogus soldier. Some of the veterans expressed regret that Dr. Tucker had allowed vanity or a desire to advance his professional interests to lead him into a position so humiliating. The Grand Army people have been keeping the matter very quiet, partly because there was no desire to injure the doctor and partly because they were sverse to making public the imposition practiced upon them.

Secretary Stanton's Kindness. The vineyards and orchards of Santa Clara Valley give evidence of a bountiful crop. The fruit is larger than expected.

Seventeen hundred men are at work on the railroad fifteen miles north of San Mignel. They are pushing the work rapidly southward.

A drunken man at Nevada City was knocked ten feet from the railroad track yesterday by a passing train, and received no damage beyond a few bruises.

There have been big rains all through Arizona Territory, and plenty of grass and water are insured. The washouts on the railroads have been repaired and trains are running on time.

Still, with all his gruffness, Stanton had a very tender heart. A wounded solder never got rough words from him, and a soldier swidow or a soldier's mother seldom went away without getting what she wanted. A story of drummer boy who was disabled in the army and came here to Washingson, having been discharged for disability. He worked about the town in different ways as far as his health would permit, and waited here for his papers, by which he could get his pay and transportation home. Day after day he called at headquarters, but the army was on the move, and the papers did not come. The official in charge said he could do nothing until the papers came, and the ragged to the papers are running on time. pers came, and the ragged, barefooted, sick drummer boy would walk slowly away with a heart like lead and with running on time.

The Semi-Tropic says: Colton, in proportion to its business population, is building better and faster than any town on the coast. It will soon absorb San Bernardino—i. e., both towns becoming as one great city.

The San Jose Mercury says: The directors of the Horticultural Association will probably hold two fairs in 1887, one in May and the other in October. The first will consist of an exhibition of flowers and cherries and "sich like"—the last, of the fall fruits of the valley.

The Colton Semi-Tropic says H. G. Wilson has returned from Encinitas. He tells some wonderful stories of the vegetable growth to be seen at that place. He says he was shown a single stalk of corn which had grown to the height of twenty feet, which had on it thirteen well-developed ears of corn.
